We Dedicate

In memory of the wonderful years we have spent here in the search for knowledge; in appreciation of the hosts of intimate friends and companions first met within these halls; and in thanks for the countless extra hours given by the faculty and administration on our behalf; we, the senior class of nineteen hundred fifty six, dedicate this, our yearbook, to Roosevelt High School, its students, its faculty and its friends.

class history

This is only the beginning we assured ourselves as we took our places as Roosevelt freshmen in 1952. We promised ourselves that we would do more in the next four years than we had dreamed of in the previous eight school years. We kept our promise.

As freshmen in '52 we first met our first sponsors Miss Virginia Cooper, Mrs. Florence Crouch, and Mrs. Ruth Shelkum, who in turn introduced us to our first dime dances, senior high fun nites, and the highlight of the year, our first high school dance the Spring Party.

In 1953, we got the works at the Sophomore Reception and took our turn at sponsoring the annual Christmas Party, which we dubbed the Snowflake Swirl.

In the fall of our junior year, we welcomed the class of '57 at the annual Sophomore Reception. The thespians among us took to the stage for the Play Festival. The class picnic at Edgewater Park concluded our last year as underclassmen.

Then came the busiest year of them all. We began by guarding The Stairs. Then came Homecoming, fads, plays, parties galore, at last - the trip, the Prom, and finally, Graduation!

Suddenly it was over. We were alumni. And in the midst of joyful-tearful farewells and the promises of reunion, the feeling of relief that it was all over gradually became regret, and the finality of our leaving was softened somewhat by the realization that once again, this was just the beginning. The Volume of Life lay before us. We had just turned the first page.

In addition to being the largest class in Roosevelt this year, the juniors were also the most active. They have taken part in athletics, musical organizations, cheerleading, Junior Achievement, GAA, FHA, and and have found time to sponsor both the Sophomore Reception and the Junior-Senior One-Act Play Festival. The juniors starred in three plays.

The tenth grade received a warm welcome into the ranks of the upper classmen at the Sophomore Reception, the annual initiation and dance sponsored by the junior class in honor of the sophomores. As its first senior high social duty, the class of 1959 sponsored the annual Christmas Party, the Frosty Frolic.

Several new activities were added to an already full schedule as the 59'ers discovered speech contests and Future Teacher and Future Homemaker clubs. Many sophomores contributed to the school paper, THE ROUGH RIDER, while a few of the boys won varsity letters in athletics.

Entrance into the eighth grade gave the class of 1960 an opportunity to take an even larger part in the activities of Roosevelt High School. Besides the other junior high activities such as fun nights and dances, the eighth grade sponsored its Christmas Party and participated in several high school assemblies. Some of the boys became members of intramural athletic teams, while a few of the more musical students qualified for the high school band.

The senior class of 1961, today's seventh grade, formally entered Roosevelt's junior-high on June 10, 1955. As their first official act under the guidance of their co-sponsors, Mr. Louis Golczynski and Mr. Alister MacDonald, they elected Bette Ann Gilden and Sandra Peterson as their representatives to the Student Council. They were soon in full stride and began to enjoy the privileges and assume the responsibilities that go with being part of the high school. Besides participating in many of the senior high activities, they sponsored some social events of their own, including fun nights and a Christmas Party. All told, the seventh grade's first year as students of Roosevelt High School was full and happy, and while looking forward to the next five years here, they can look back with pride at the lasting impression they have made upon the students, faculty, and furniture of Roosevelt High School.

Organized in 1930 to promote student government, the Roosevelt Student Council meets regularly to discuss school business and recommend proper legislation. Among the council-sponsored activities are Fun Nites, dime dances, intramural athletics, Homecoming festivities, and the annual Magazine Sale. This year the sale netted $1,409, the largest profit in its history. The Council used the money to help support the band, athletic teams, and various school activities.

Elected to head the students' representative body this year were Roy Buck, president; John Erikson, vice-president; and Mary Jane Nissly, secretary-treasurer. Under their leadership, the Council enjoyed one of its busiest and most successful years.

Under the direction of Miss Thelma McAndless, Roosevelt students publish a tri-weekly newspaper, THE ROUGH RIDER, and the yearbook, ECHO.

Members of the ROUGH RIDER staff are always exercising their nose for news. The Riders work frantically to beat deadlines. They struggle over the units in a headline. They write and re-write stories until the style satisfies. They lay out a page and then study it - striving always for effective make-up. It's not easy to put out a paper, but there's always an eager staff standing by.

Roosevelt seniors work tirelessly each year to compile a yearbook, which students may keep as a rememberance of high school days. These young men and women acquire experience in planning and publishing. They discover the mysteries of pre-screening and copy editing. Others learn how to snip and paste pictures. Some find their forte in selling.

The editors find that co-operation and organization are the key words in producing a good product.

Roosevelt's five Boy and Girl Scout organizations offer a variety of activities for interested students.

The Girl Scouts follow a varied program, but they take time out to build up their treasury through the annual cookie and candy sale. The Senior Scouts, a branch of the Girl Scouts, have devoted most of their time to the study of nursing, regularly assisting in the children's ward at University Hospital. The Mariner Scouts study navigation, and this year plan to take a trip to Holland, Michigan, to study boating firsthand.

For boys, Roosevelt's troop 31 offers a chance to gain valuable knowledge of wood lore and camping. The Explorer Scouts, open to older boys, emphasizes vocational training, community service, and outdoor skills.

GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The only requirement for membership in the Girls' Athletic Association is the desire to participate in sports and have whole-hearted fun with other girls. Besides participating in football, basketball, baseball, and bowling, the GAA feted the Roosevelt football team at the annual Football Feast, held this year in the cafeteria. Highlight of the GAA year is the annual banquet, at which awards are made and newly elected officers installed.

SWIM CLUB

Roosevelt High School girls in grades eight through twelve, who are interested in synchronized swimming, have the opportunity (provided they can meet specific requirements,) to become members of the Girls' Swim Club.

Throughout the academic year, the girls strive to perfect swimming techniques under the guidance of their advisor, Mary Irene Bell. The RHS mermaids attended a swim clinic at Midland in December. Spring finds the Sinkopaters acting as hostesses to the varsity swim team at a dinner.

future teachers

Roosevelt students interested in the teaching profession have the opportunity of joining the Future Teachers' Club. The purpose of this organization, now in its second year at Roosevelt, is to help students investigate the various fields of teaching.

In addition to their work in elementary classrooms, FTA members assist in the annual FTA day, held on the MSNC campus to augment FTA club programs.

At this year's annual installation program, the Roosevelt FTA Club became the Leonard W. Menzi Club of the Future Teachers of America.

junior achievement

This year there were more than sixty students from Roosevelt participating in the Ypsilanti Junior Achievement program. These students, with juniors and seniors from other high schools in the area, helped to organize eight Junior Achievement companies. They decided upon a product, sold stock to obtain sufficient operating capital, and proceeded to manufacture and sell their product.

John Osborne - Captain

Roosevelt places three on All-State class C roster.

After a close 20-18 game with Clinton, the Roosevelt gridders gained momentum and climaxed the season by tying arch-rival Lincoln and defeating always-tough University High. Although they finished seventh in the league standings, the Rough Riders determined the Huron League championship by their 13-13 tie with League-leading Lincoln.

Highlight of the season was the 14-12 victory over U High, with the Rough Riders scoring both their touchdowns in the final period of play.

The loss of 14 varsity lettermen will be partly cancelled by the return of 11 lettermen and the addition of this year's Little Rough Riders, who, under the coaching of Harlan Minor, made a good showing in numerous practice scrimmages.

Regional and District Trophies

Under the guidance of Coach Art Walker, the RHS basketeers chalked up a winning season by capturing District and Regional championships.

The 1956 event took place after the Rough Rider quintet swept through the District tilt, overpowering Dexter, 51-35, U-High, 56-48, and Lincoln, 76-51. They then took the measure of Leslie, 48-41, downed Morenci, 57-50, and romped over A. E. Smith, 68-44, to clinch the Regional cup.

Scarlet and Grey supporters then followed their victorious team to Albion and the State tournament. Berrien Springs headed the game 74-55.

*State Meet - 4th Place - 21 points

Under the coaching of Bill McLardy, the swimming team turned in a 4-5 performance. The team swam against mostly Class A and B competition.

In the Class B State Meet the team came in fourth, with Bill Aldrich winning two second places in the same meet.

Aldrich was named the outstanding swimmer of the season. By the end of the season, he had scored more points than any other swimmer this year on the R.H.S. squad. He lowered his own breast stroke record twice.
